HON. J. H. KING HERE, CONFERS ON STEEL

Premier Oliver and Political Leaders in Session With Federal Minister

Programme of Entertainment for Federal Minister

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works of Canada, went into conference with Premier Oliver and members of the Provincial Government on his arrival here to-day.

Senator Bostock, speaker of the Canadian Senate, came down from his ranch at Djucks for the conference and Dr. K. C. Macdonald, M.P.P., came down from the Okanagan to attend the meeting with Dr. King, who is the only representative of B.C. in the Dominion Cabinet.

One of the chief masters of the British Columbia Ministers are taking up with Dr. King the question of the proposed steel works for British Columbia and the terms on which the Imperial Dominion and Provincial Governments are to finance it.

Preparatory to this meeting, Hon. Landahl, head of the $15,000,000 Coast Range Steel Co., came to Victoria late yesterday and had a long session with the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, about the Government guarantees.

Questions that will come before the Provincial Liberal Convention at Nelson on September 28 are also being discussed with Dr. King by the Premier and his Ministers.

This afternoon Dr. King was taken for a drive, when he visited the Ogden Park, while Mrs. King was entertained by the ladies of the Liberal Association in the Liberal Club Rooms, Government Street.

Guest At Luncheon To-morrow.

On Friday Dr. King will visit the drydock and at 12.15 o'clock noon he will be the guest of honor at a civic luncheon at the Empress Hotel, tickets for which may be secured at the Chamber of Commerce offices or the Publicity Bureau in the Belmont Building.

At 8 o'clock to-morrow evening there will be a meeting of the Liberal members in the Liberal Club auditorium at which Dr. King will speak and Hon. John Oliver, Hon. John Hart and others will give addresses. At this meeting the forty delegates to the Liberal convention at Nelson will be selected.

Dr. King had a very busy morning meeting old acquaintances and there were a large number of his friends at the boat and at the Empress Hotel to greet him. While he was not in a position to give any specific outline of his investigations during the present visit, he intimated that he would look thoroughly into the needs of the district from the standpoint of the Works, A. St. Laurent, Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department; and C. C. Womeld, District Engineer at New Westminster, are also in the city in connection with the work of their Department.

Opened Fair.

Dr. King spoke in glowing terms of the New Westminster Exhibition, which he opened on Tuesday. (Concluded on page 13)

DELORME CASE BEFORE COURT IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 14.—Hearing of the petition of Adelard Teixeira to have his son-in-law, Rev. Adelard Delorme, indicted for the murder of his half-brother, Raoul, but committed to Beauport Asylum, decided incapable of managing his large estate began to-day before Mr. Justice Coderre.

TARIFF POWER FOR U. S. PRESIDENT

Will Be Able to Use Pressure on Other Nations

Probable Effects of New Measure Studied

Washington, Sept. 14.—What is to be the effect of the new United States tariff measure on reciprocal tariffs is being closely studied by many members of Congress. It is declared by members of the House, Wm. M. McAdoo, attorney who had a large part in shaping the conference report that the purpose of the bill is not to encourage reciprocity, but rather to force other nations not to discriminate against the United States in their tariffs. A prominent authority to-day declared that under the new bill the President had power to force changes for the benefit of the United States in the preferential tariffs as between Great Britain and Canada or other Dominions, if the President should choose, under the flexible tariff authority, to go that far. It is not believed the President would attempt to interfere with the preferential arrangements, but it is pointed out the flexible provisions afford him a large amount of freedom to power to assess fit to it vigorously. Attempts by other countries to give preferences which hurt United States trade in general will be met with retaliation by this country, it is said, even though exception be made as to the tariffs between Great Britain and the Dominions.

REPARATION COURSE DECIDED

French Cabinet Unanimously Approves Poincare's Plan

Directions Given to Commission Members

Rambouillet, France, Sept. 14.—At a meeting in the summer residence of President Millerand to-day, Premier Poincare laid before the Cabinet the report of the negotiations between the Belgian and German Governments over the German notes for German reparations payments. He told of the directions he had given the French delegation to the Reparations Commission as a result of the failure of these negotiations. The Cabinet unanimously approved the Premier's course.

GARRISON TAKEN BY INSURGENTS

Surprise Attack at Ballina, County Mayo, Ireland

Sharp Fighting at Points in Dublin

Belfast, Sept. 14.—Ballina, in the northern part of County Mayo, has been recaptured by republicans, who swooped down upon the town several hundred strong and captured the garrison of Government troops.

One account from Ballina says that the rebels, who were in the cathedral at the time of the attack attending a requiem mass for a comrade recently killed, while most of the others were in bed, having spent most of the preceding night on guard in anticipation of the assault.

The soldiers who were actually armed and in a position to fight were hopelessly outnumbered.

Two civilians, a girl and a man, are said to have been shot down and a number of soldiers and civilians wounded. When the republicans left they took with them two civilians, who had treated them as supporters.

In Cork County.

Prior to the landing of national army men at Court MacSherry, County Cork, there was a deadly engagement with a large republican force. The republicans used machine guns with which they poured a heavy fire into the national troops, which nevertheless held out "with remarkable casualties," the adviser states. were heavy, three men being killed and ten wounded. The national troops say only one of their men was wounded.

Shot Dead

Tipperary advises state that Thomas Brennan, of Sherwood, County Tipperary, who was from the United States, was shot dead, a label attached to the body being inscribed "Convicted spy."

It is estimated that sixteen persons have been killed in South and West Ireland in the past few days.

In Dublin

Belfast, Sept. 14.—Reports from Dublin to-day tell of heavy fighting heard over a wide area shortly after 12.30 a.m. to-day, a climax between 12.30 and 1 o'clock. It is said that several posts were being attacked. It was said the telephone exchange in Crown Alley was under attack for about twenty minutes, machine guns being used, while another attack was made on the Posts and Telegraphs national army troops, who are stationed on the quays and in Sackville Street, and armored cars were hurried to the scene. By two o'clock, however, quiet against prevailed.

FORMER CITIZEN TO OPEN FAIR: GEN. SIR A. CURRIE

EXPECT NEW POLICY TO BREAK CHINESE SCHOOLS BOYCOTT

Removing Discrimination Against Chinese, Trustees Await Pupils' Return

Fear No Legal Action Now; Few Chinese to Be Allowed in White Schools

After defining a new separate school policy by which all children, regardless of race, who cannot speak English well will be segregated from English-speaking pupils, the Canadian School Board waited to day for striking Chinese pupils to return to their classes. If the Chinese do not return now the schools provided for them will be abandoned, it was intimated. In other words, having removed all trace of discrimination against the Chinese from their school policies, the trustees are determined to stand pat and take no further action.

The new separate school policy was adopted by the Board last night at a lengthy private meeting when a resolution drawn up by Municipal Inspector Deane was passed unanimously.

According to this resolution all children, whether they are Chinese or not, who cannot speak English well and who tend to regard the other children will be placed in the new separate schools at Rock Bay, King's Road and Railway Street.

This means that some 200 Chinese will be placed in separate schools and about thirty Chinese, who speak English well, will attend the white schools. Whether the new ruling will affect any children of Japanese or other foreign parents is not known yet.

Remove Legal Difficulty.

The trustees declared that the new policy removes them completely from any possibility of legal action to block the separate school policy. Under its original plan—that of segregating only Chinese—the Board, it was thought, was open to legal difficulties because, in a sense, it was discriminating against one race. Now the segregation is not based on race, but upon knowledge of the English language.

It is confidently expected that when the Chinese understand the new policy they will send their children back to school. At present the boycott of the separate schools is almost complete and work is at a standstill. The Board will make no effort through its truant officer to bring the Chinese back to their classes, it is said. It would be most impossible to find them in Chinatown to determine their classes. If they do not come to their classes the Board will not worry further about them. If they persist in their present attitude permanently the separate schools will

CANADA GREATEST EXPORTING COUNTRY

On Basis of Population, Says J. E. Walsh

Manufacturers' Association Manager Visits Coast

Vancouver, Sept. 14.—Canada, on the basis of her population, is the greatest exporting country in the world, and the fourth greatest in the aggregate volume of commodities she sends to foreign consumers, says J. E. Walsh, general manager of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who arrived in this city from Toronto to-day.

Business conditions in the East are pretty nearly back to normal, with the prospect of a gradual improvement that will continue to take place during the next six months, Mr. Walsh said. There is a large percentage of coal on account of the recent strike, but there is no hard coal available in the East and none is expected until December 1. The settlement of the railway strike in the United States, Mr. Walsh said, will have a very favorable influence on business conditions.

The new separate school policy was adopted by the Board last night at a lengthy private meeting when a resolution drawn up by Municipal Inspector Deane was passed unanimously.

WOULD ASK PARENTS ABOUT CHANGES IN HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Business Men Seek Permission to Ascertain Public Opinion on Curriculum

Plans for submitting to parents of school children a questionnaire on the advisability of making changes in the High School curriculum were laid before the City School Board last night by Major W. B. Shaw, representing business men who recently brought Dr. Adam Short here to investigate the city's finances.

"We are not asking you to endorse this questionnaire but merely to allow it to be distributed to parents through school children and to get the Major Shaw explained."

"The idea is simply to sound our opinion on a subject of real importance."

The Board laid the matter on the table so that it can be considered fully.

The questionnaire which the business men wish to circulate runs as follows:

Unquestioned, pro bono publico, by Messrs. J. A. Sayward, J. E. Wilson, Baggerstaffe Wilson, Otto Weiler, R. Porter & Sons, David Spencer & Sons, D. E. Campbell, J. H. Todd & Sons, John Dean, Sir Frank Barnard, Canadian Pacific Railway and Hudson's Bay Co., with the consent and approval of His Worship the Mayor and Council and Board of School Trustees.

Dear Sir, Madam or Miss,

With a view of obtaining information on the subject of education, this questionnaire is submitted to you, and to those calculated to be able to render such information, and is especially sought from students who have passed through the public schools during the last five years, also from the parents of such students, teachers and others of whatever degree, to whom this may be submitted, and the cooperation of every recipient is earnestly requested.

Last year's school report for 1920-21 shows:

There were enrolled in Victoria public schools 5,486.

There were enrolled in Victoria High School 915.

The public schools cost the city for 170 teachers.

The public schools cost the Province for 170 teachers.

High School cost the city for interest on indebtedness,

For maintenance,

For depreciation,

The taxpayers contributed all of this.

The public at large contributed indirectly in rent and through the merchants they trade with who are forced to pay high rates of interest. A large portion is included in the price of the goods sold to the public, so that the higher the cost of education the higher the cost of living. Answers are requested to the following:

1. The basic industries of British Columbia, including lumbering, mining, agriculture, fishing, dairying, fruit and fruit raising; continent on these and necessary for their furtherance are mechanical trades, professions, etc. Which of these callings would you prefer your son or daughter to engage in?

2. If son or daughter have passed through High School, please give name, age, residence and occupation.

3. Is their education satisfactory to you?

4. Is their occupation satisfactory to you?

5. If not residing in B. C. would you and they prefer their doing so?

6. Length of absence.

7. The following subjects are available in the High School—Reading, spelling, arithmetic, composition, and rhetoric, English literature, Canadian civics, general history, geography, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, chemistry, physics, agriculture, physiology, botany, Latin, French, drawing, bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, business forms and laws of business, economics, statistics, world's work, domestic science, magnetism and electricity, drafting, mechanics, metal work, machine shop work. Thirty-two in number.

8. Do you think number of subjects taught could be modified and cost reduced without interfering with the welfare of your son or daughter?

9. Which of the subjects taught have proved the least beneficial?

10. What of the subjects taught have proved the least beneficial?

11. What alteration in improvement in schooling can you suggest that would enable the students to make a better living in B. C.?

12. Having regard to healthfulness of occupation, which do you prefer?

13. Having regard to general welfare, personal taste and written qualifying tests, which do you prefer?

14. How many years did your son or daughter attend High School and their age when they left?

15. Fees paid for students in Toronto—Collegiate Institutes, High Schools and Technical Schools in 1920 amounted to $50,865.10, rated as follows: Form 1, free; Form 2, $2; Form 3, $5; Form 4, $7; Form 5, $9. These amounts given are per term, the school year consisting of three terms, so that the fees are $27 per year for Form 5.

16. Do you think High School students should be paid for?

18. Please make any suggestions

PREMIER KING URGES UNITY

Good Will Is Need of Times, He Says in Address in Kitchener

Mrs. Anderson writes us after the contest is over to say that in her opinion women should tell B. C. manufacturers if their products are good. She says she could not believe it possible to improve Pacific Milk, but there is decided change since each can contains 43 per cent of cream—"and if it is fresh, sweet cream, I can tell by the flavor," she added.

"Unity can be achieved by a spirit of good will," he urged. "There must be unity between capital and labor; between the different races of the Dominion; between the provinces; between all parts of the Empire, and between nations of the world." This was the supreme aim of all governments.

The Prime Minister stressed the necessity of Government protecting the rights of minorities and of respecting the opinions of groups. Liberty of the individual was a vital necessity in making for progress and development.

Disorder Not Wanted.

At a monster mass meeting of soldiers and Waterloo people yesterday afternoon Mr. King said:

"It is not the men who are striving to revert to the old-established customs and institutions which break with traditions and provoke a reign of anarchy; who are making either the world or our country a better place to live in...

"The war through which we passed had dangerous tendencies in those directions. We must return to the quieter and gentler and more refined modes of living if we are to ensure our nation's future along the lines of happiness and peace."

JAMES H. BEATTY IS HONORED HERE

Former President of Chamber of Commerce Leaves

James H. Beatty, former president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, was honored at a banquet at the Dominion Hotel last night on the eve of his departure for Vancouver, where he will assume the office of superintendent for the Sprott-Shaw Schools in British Columbia. While the field of his endeavor has been largely expanded and his position is now one of much more responsibility than that which he occupied as manager of the Victoria school for 1920-21.

There were enrolled in Victoria public schools 5,486.

There were enrolled in Victoria High School 915.

The public schools cost the city for 170 teachers.

The public schools cost the Province for 170 teachers.

High School cost the city for interest on indebtedness,

For maintenance,

For depreciation,

The taxpayers contributed all of this.

President J. W. Spencer spoke of the splendid work which Mr. Beatty had carried on the work of the Chamber of Commerce during the period that it was changed over from the Board of Trade and modern and new quarters were secured for Victoria's premier business organization.

Alderman Todd spoke of the manner in which the Chamber and the City Council had worked together in securing the new home of the Chamber of Commerce during the dinner.

The public at large contributed indirectly in rent and through the efforts of Mr. Beatty, and it was with sincere regret that all those present at the dinner witnessed his departure from the city, where he has always played such a strenuous and important part in promoting the best interests of the community.

In token of the esteem in which he is held, Mr. Beatty was presented with a silver ring and tray.

Directors of the past and present of the Chamber of Commerce were present at the dinner and added their expression of appreciation of Mr. Beatty's ability and popularity.

OUR FALL FAIR.

Very likely more people would patronize the Agricultural Fair at the Willows if they could combine hurried inspection of the exhibits with a lengthy attendance at the race track. Horse racing always draws a crowd because it provides a thrill that never could be got from gazing at the finest fruit and vegetables in the world. But the people of Victoria need not weep because the efforts of the Agricultural Association in this particular respect have failed. Its primary object was the provision of an attraction that would be certain to guarantee a good daily attendance. This was not to be and the event will now rest within its own business limits.

In spite of the disappointment that some will experience it should be particularly gratifying to commercial Victoria to learn that never before in the history of the British Columbia Agricultural Association has space in the exhibition buildings been so quickly snapped up. In fact Mr. Sangster would be quite satisfied if such a pleasing prospect could be enhanced by that of a race meet. If the energetic Secretary is convinced of the importance of such an excellent demand for space we believe that the net result of that fact will be more beneficial in a wider sense than if his wish were gratified in the manner which appeals to him as an attendance drawing card. This annual exhibition is Victoria's bid for more business. Any community can get up a successful race meet; not every district finds it so simple to place its goods "in the window" and compel the admiration and attention of all and sundry.

This is a phase of an exhibition that is often lost sight of in a rather eager desire to provide side shows that detract from the chief object of the event. People interested in the development of the country go to a Fall Fair to learn something of the capabilities of the locality and the enterprise of its people. If this part of British Columbia is to attract more population, more producers, industrially and agriculturally, it must expose its own initiative—a course that invites confidence and actually attracts capital. On this account there should be a big attendance every day. Support in this way should compensate the Association for any set-back which it considers it may suffer through the absence of horse racing.

MR. SASTRI'S REQUEST.

Extension of the franchise to East Indians resident in Canada is not a question that the Prime Minister of this country could dispose of without consultation with his colleagues and eventual reference to Parliament. When Mr. Sastri called upon Mr. King the other day the Premier promised him that his request should be dealt with along these lines. Should the Government consider the question in a light favorable to the East Indian point of view it would not be opposed by the Liberal-Conservative group unless Mr. Meighen has changed his mind since giving his approval in the matter at the Imperial Conference. But the Government is under no obligation of decision rests exclusively with the Parliament of Canada.

REDUCING TRADE.

Every schoolboy has learned by this time that very nearly half of the world's gold is in the possession of the United States. The American dollar can work its way anywhere and demand a premium—except in Canada. Its value varies all the way from one hundred cents to seven million Russian roubles. Of all the European exchange that they may learn the latest the pound sterling is about the nearest approach to the normal value of the dollar.

In view of these obvious facts it is surprising that the Republican Administration should seek to give permanence to the emergency tariff by new legislation. Europe has no gold with which to buy American goods and her ability to pay her bills and resume her trading account with our neighbor is made still more difficult by these duties. Canada's position is not materially altered by the new bill. Markets which had been accessible to our agricultural products and livestock are virtually closed. The less Canada exports to the South the less she will import. The same applies to other countries which have been in the habit of doing business with Uncle Sam. In the meantime we shall have to develop new markets and cultivate the growing sentiment in favor of a fuller exploitation of that trading field known as the British Empire.

One cannot help but marvel at the action of the Washington Government. Economic law would seem to be set at naught in its adoption of the new measure. Our neighbor's trading account with the rest of the world will be reduced and its policy cannot help but increase the cost of living within its own domain. What is more important still is the fact that the new tariff will offer no assistance towards the solution of the problem of international trade.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

If the impression is growing that the points of conflict which have arisen out of the defeat of Greece's inefficient military offensives by the Turkish Nationalists can only be settled effectively at a conference at which all the European powers—including Russia—are represented, the sooner it is held the better it will be for all the nations which might be involved if the intoxication of Turkish success is permitted to go to more heads than those which comprise the Angora Government and its military forces. We are living in a conference age and much has been accomplished by the free interchange of international opinions. Turkey has been absent from these councils; there has been no particular occasion for her presence; but the "Sick Man of Europe" has discarded his dressing gown for his fighting clothes and will have to be heard if things are not to get out of hand. That is not to say that he should be permitted to assume the role of a dictator because he has crushed the armies of a former ally of Kaiserism.

WHY QUIBBLE ABOUT IT?

It is singularly unfortunate that the Kipling incident should have cropped up at this juncture. The poet's denial does not seem to have satisfied the Hearst press is particularly jubilant because it furnishes a new excuse to renew its anti-British propaganda. On the other hand is the mutual understanding which the war firmly cemented between Great Britain and the United States not sincere or strong enough to stand an occasional pin prick from some individual who loses sight of the greater issues and the greater responsibility which rests upon Anglo-Saxondom at the present time? Whether Mr. Kipling said the United States came into the war two years too late and came into it for the gold, or whether he said nothing of the kind—which is the essence of his denial—what does it matter as long as ninety-nine per cent. of the people of both countries realize the necessity of good friendship between John Bull and Uncle Sam? Neither Government is worrying about the incident; they represent the people—not Mr. Kipling or Mr. Hearst. And why quibble about history anyway?

NOTE AND COMMENT

It is the duty of all Victorians to support the Fall Fair with their attendance and by such oral advertising as they may be privileged to undertake.

Russian profiteers are craving for fashion journals in order that they may learn the latest fabrics and satisfy them through the expenditure of their ill-gotten gains.

One of the London papers, discussing the situation in the Near East, has reached the conclusion that the powers are confronted by "grave crisis." This will not do at all; the crisis business has been woefully overplayed.

European exchange conditions have almost wiped out the export trade of the United States. The Fordney-McCumber tariff should just about complete the job.

Mr. Fielding has voiced his objection to the retention of the submarine as a weapon of war. If a few more statesmen would take a real interest in disarmament even France might want to get rid of her underwater sur-

Chinese students who understand the language just as well as the Canadian children? If the Board is ignorant of this fact then the so-called "interest" in the Chinese pupils is nothing but a banalizing term. I sincerely hope that the Board's knowledge of the School Board is fallacious. Mr. Editor, for the Board is composed of respectable, educated and honorable persons.

CHIROPRACTORS.

To the Editor:—Now that the prosecutions in the police court against Chiropractors both in Victoria and Vancouver have come to a conclusion, I feel that I shall not be violating any etiquette by asking you to allow me the courtesy of your columns to present to the public certain points of the situation which I do not think they have fully realized.

The average man or woman does not perceive legislative enactments as a general course, and while most people are quite aware that there is a Medical Act, comparatively few are familiar with its contents.

The Chiropractors before mentioned were prosecuted and convicted for having practised medicine, for hope of reward, and having failed to register with the Medical Council as provided in the Chiropractic Amendment to the Medical Act.

But the Chiropractor does not practice medicine. He does not prescribe, and his method of treatment by adjustment of vertebra is recognized by no medical body, and is taught in no medical school. How then can he be convicted of practicing medicine?

This is where the Medical Act comes in. With great forethought and provision, the medical profession have seen to it that this bill is so broadly drawn that it includes under the definition of medicine not only all known methods of alleviating human suffering, but all methods which may be discovered in the future, whether they are known and understood or not, and which are approved by the medical profession or not.

It seems to me that these are very large powers to be placed by statute in the hands of any single profession, and that the attainments of such a profession should be very closely looked into, before endowing it with such arbitrary and comprehensive powers.

Leaving entirely alone the question of the purity and altruism claimed for the medical profession as a whole, it cannot possibly be claimed that medicine is an exact science. Sir William Osler defined medical practice as a quarter knowledge, a quarter guess work and the rest luck. There is a great proportion of so-called medical truth which were in fact medical lies.

When we find that leaders, whose authority can scarcely be questioned, admit that their profession is largely groping in the dark, it is surely amazing to find this same profession exercising the rights of control and supervision over the members of a school of which they know nothing, and in whose methods they have made no examination.

Of course it is perfectly true that there is much textbook knowledge common to both medical and chiropractic schools, especially in such subjects as anatomy and physiology, but surely text-books are common to all this world; and so long as fundamental knowledge differs in a school of thought out to have predominating rights over any other, there is much to be desired.

There is much common ground in the education of mechanical and electrical engineers, but the Institute of Mechanical Engineers and the Institute of Electrical Engineers are separate bodies, each governing their own members and each holding their own examinations.

It is absurd to say that the Medical Council in causing these prosecutions in the interests of the public. It is obvious that the interests of the public would be equally well served by accepting the Chiropractic Bill submitted to the House early in 1921. The qualifications required of prospective licensees were practically identical if not more so than those proposed by the amendment, and the injustice of placing one body of men under the control of another body with whose economic interests they enter into direct competition, would be removed.

It is no use blinking at facts. The medical profession in this Province is out to eliminate as far as possible some corruption in the business of treating disease.

If the public is apathetic and willing to be imposed on, they will fall under a gradually increasing medical tyranny such as they have never known. Compulsory state medicine is the almost openly avowed object of medical propaganda.

If, however, they stand upon their rights as free citizens to seek health and happiness, and upon their inalienable guarantees against charlatanism, now is the time to be up and fighting.

A larger issue is at stake than the imposing of a few fines, or even a few jail sentences.

The liberty of the subject, the right to choose for oneself is threatened. Then let every liberty-loving person set to it that his representative in the Legislature understand clearly what he will lose his confidence unless he plays his part in securing a fair hearing, such as was not accorded in 1921, to the Chiropractic case when it comes up again before the Legislature this year.

Fathers and mothers are your children deprived of the benefits of this great medical service in order that the medical profession may continue in unbreathed prosperity?

FINE CATTLE AT COWICHAN FAIR

Entries Up to Levels of Former Years; Other Details

(Times Correspondence)

Duncan—Entries in cattle for the Cowichan Fall Fair have come well up to the mark in the last day or two. Among the largest herds to be shown are those of Messrs. Matthews, Evans and Bishop, Jerseys; Messrs. J. Evans & Sons and Matthews, Holsteins. A. C. Stewart, of Cloverdale, is bringing over a big bunch of sheep, including Oxfords, Shropshires and Lincolns.

There is a great increase in the number of pigs and goats to be shown.

There will be a splendid showing of fruits and garden produce.

Mrs. V. H. Wilson is to be in charge of the catering during Friday and Saturday, and members of the Cowichan Women's Institute, the King's Daughters, the Cowichan Girl Guides and Boy Scouts will take charge of serving and waiting on the tables.

COLUMBIA

William Farnum, whose great popularity was born of his rugged and intelligent acting, is the big attraction at the Columbia Theatre to-day in his latest William Fox picture, "Shackles of Gold," based on Henri Bernstein's greatest drama, "Samson."

Farnum is certainly at home in a play of this character, and his acting of the part of the man who seeks vengeance because of a menacing wrong to his wife is thrilling throughout. In "Shackles of Gold," Farnum sets out to ruin the man who has tempted his wife—a woman who had married him because her parents needed Farnum's wealth and who abhorred him because he had come up to prominence from the position of a common dock-laborer. Farnum ruins his man all right by breaking the price of Mexican oil on the stock market—but he also ruins himself. It is when he is ruined and broken that his wife realizes he has been bad for her, and goes to him asking forgiveness. She has been flirting with a Lothario, and now has found a real man.

Myra Bonillas, Mr. Farnum's new leading woman, does her part of the work well and with a freshness that is very charming. The others in the cast, too, are most capable.

CROWDED HOUSES AT PLAYHOUSE NIGHTLY

"Girl From Tokio" Registers Another Success for Local Company

Crowded houses are now becoming a commonplace in the experience of the Playhouse, mainly because of the fresh programme of Potted Opera and vaudeville are presented each week for four nights and a matinee performance.

The show this week is no exception to the rule, and during its run last week, and at last night's opening added considerably to the laurels of its clever producer R. N. Hincks and its talented cast.

The programme opens with a concerted number by the company, after which the girls present a racy novelty song, "The Ninety-Nine Hole," which makes a strong appeal to the sporting members of his audience. Ernie Petch has another sure success in his Yiddish song, "Solomon the Carpenter," which goes with a merry swing and keeps the house in a positive uproar of delight. Following these, three violin solos, played with admirable technique and feeling are rendered by Miss Justine Gilbert, an unusually gifted artist from Pasadena, who is vacationing in this city, where formerly she resided, has been of inestimable value to those who have had the privilege of hearing her play.

A dramatic fragment with a startling denouement, "Too Bad," is cleverly presented by Eunice Campbell and Bert Hobday and Ernie Petch. Miss Justine Gilbert also takes the curtain.

leading role in "The Girl From Tokio" which forms the main and main part of the programme. This tuneful little opera transports the audience to the "Land of the Rising Sun," where in cherry-bowered Tokio is depicted the story of the demure Otoe San (Miss Gilbert) and the amorous and amazebearing General Sakata (Bob Webb), to whom she is reluctantly betrothed. The play offers the main opportunity to Ernie Petch, as Smith, and the success of the production is due in no small measure to his excellent comedy and the musical—blues—songs which fall to his share. Jack Petch is clever as the Mayor of Tokio, and proves himself one of the best of the comedians that have been seen in this city. His singing, too, is admirable. R. N. Hincks, executive producer, and Eunice Turner, selling high explosives to the Japanese Government, and Eileen Allwood, as Betsy Turner sings and acts with charm.

A clever little dance by Peggy Lewis and Bert Hobday leads off the programme, while Eunice Campbell and Herbert Kent complete the cast. Mrs. C. C. Wain's delightful playing and the charming scenery painted by G. Stewart Clarke, with its blossoming valleys and green hillsides, its airy temples and green temples, is typically Japanese in its cumulative effect, all go to make the "Girl From Tokio" a very satisfying and attractive production.

The curtains miss each night this week at 8:30.

ROYAL VICTORIA

World wide, the reciprocal sentiment of mother love and the longing of a full-grown man for what he has never known, furnishes the guiding impulse in "Sonny," the stirring drama of everyday life which is being presented at The Royal Victoria Theatre this week.

Richard Barthelmess is the star, the picture marking his third production for Associated First National Pictures, Inc. Unlike "Folable David," the present attraction finds its locale in the crowded quarters of the big city, but like its predecessor it tells a story of simple charm and intensely human drama.

Pauline Garon has the leading feminine role in support of the star and is exquisitely charming. The remainder of a capable cast includes Margaret Seddon, Lucy Fox, Herbert Grinnell, Patterson Dial, Fred Nichols, James Terrell, Margaret Elizabeth Faulkner and Virginia Magie. Henry King directed.

DOMINION

Three strikes! That's the record set by Wallace Reid and Clara Beranger when the producer and the scenarist combined forces in the production of screen dramas.

"Miss LuLu Bett," their first joint effort, won unqualified praise from the public and critics. "Bougie and Taff" followed, a screen drama which they transferred to the screen, likewise reaped a rich harvest of praise and patronage. And now critics agree that "Nice People," their third consecutive screen play, is destined to surpass either of its predecessors. This latest William de Mille production for Paramount will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

A notable cast headed by Wallace Reid, Bebe Daniels, Conrad Nagel and Wallace Beery, and featuring though both Reid and Miss Daniels have appeared under the direction of Cecil B. de Mille, neither have ever before shared honors in William de Mille production. Other notables in the cast are Claire McDowell, Eve Southern, Edward Martindel, Bertram Johns and Ethel Vales.

DOMINION

Three richly embroidered costumes weighing 105 pounds provide much of the interest attendant upon Rodolph Valentino's colorful and varied Spanish wardrobe in his new Paramount picture, "Blood and Sand," by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, which comes to the Dominion Theatre September 25.

Thirty-five pounds, each, weigh the gorgous silver, gold and satin torero costumes worn by the star in his appearances as "Juan Gallardo," a bull fighter of Spain. When fully dressed with the addition of his cape of pink silk, a Spanish bull fighter's costume weighs 105 pounds, a battery of bells on a busy Sunday.

But the torero suits are not the only colorful features of the Valentino impersonation in this picture. There is a rugged outfit of the young street gamin with bull-fighter aspirations, and a gaudy, exotic costume worn at Galiardo's courtly parties. All have been figured to display at its best the vivid exotic touch which has created the sudden country-wide Valentino vogue.

The Valentino genius for romantic love-making has adequate opportunity with the two widely-differentiated feminine leads, played by Lila Lee, sweet and gentle, and Nita Naldi, ornate and tempestuous. "Blood and Sand" is a Fred Niblo production, adapted by June Mathis. Alvin York's photograph included in the cast are Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rosanova, Marie Marstini, George Field, Fred Becker and Charles Belcher.

OUTLINE OF HISTORY
The Romance of Mother Earth

TO-DAY'S INSTALMENT—4
Creatures of the Early Seas

LIFE IN EARLY PALAEZOIC AGE.

Note its general resemblance, except for size, to the microscopic summer ditchwater life of to-day.

Lying over and above the pre-tetrapod rocks is a third series, which is to contain a considerable number and variety of traces of living things. First comes the evidence of a diversity of shell-fish, crabs and such-like crawling things; worms, sea-weeds, and the like; then of a multitude of fishes and of the beginning of land plants and land creatures.

These rocks are called the palaeozoic (ancient life) rocks. They mark a vast era, during which life was slowly spreading, increasing and developing. Through long ages, through the earliest palaeozoic time, it was no more than a proliferation of such swimming and creeping things in the water.

THROUGH LONG AGES

There were creatures called trilobites; they were crawling things like sea woodlice that were probably related to the American king-crab of to-day. There were also sea "molluscs", the precursors of the early worm. The individuals of certain species of these were nine feet long. These were the very highest sorts of life. There were abundant different sorts of an order of shelfish called brachiopods. There were plant animals, rooted and joined together like plants, and loose weeds that waved in the waters.

It was not a display of life to excite our imaginations. There was nothing that ran or flew or even swam swiftly or skillfully. Except for the size of some of the creatures, they were as different from and rather less various than the kind of life a student would gather from any summer-time ditch nowadays for microscopic examination.

Such was the life of the shallow seas through hundred millions years more in the early palaeozoic period. The land, during that time was apparently absolutely barren. We find no trace nor hint of land life. Everything that lived in those days lived under water for most or all of its life.

Between the formation of these few palaeozoic rocks in which the earliest forms of life had been found, and trilobites ruled, and our own time, there have intervened almost immeasurable ages, represented by layers and masses of sedimentary rocks.

There are first the upper palaeozoic rocks, and above these the geological division two great divisions.

Next above the palaeozoic come the mesozoic (middle life) rocks, and vast systems of fossil bearing rocks, millions of swift years, and containing a wonderful array of fossil remains, bones of giant reptiles and the like, which we will presently describe; and above these again are the Cainozoic (recent life) rocks, a third division, which we may call the "modern" rocks.

Speculations about geological time vary enormously. Estimates of the age of the oldest rocks by geologists and astronomers starting from different standpoints have varied between 1,800,000 and 9,000,000 years.

But the record of time has been vast; that it is to be counted by scores and possibly by hundreds of millions of years, is the utmost that can be said with certainty in the matter.

And it is not to be denied that whatever the time, the most geologists are in agreement that half or more than half of the whole of geological time had passed before life had developed to the later palaeozoic level. The reader reading quickly through these opening paragraphs will be apt to think of them as a mere swift prelude of preparation to the apparently much longer history that follows, but in reality that subsequent history is longer only because it is more detailed and more interesting to us.

For ages that stagger the imagination this earth spun hot and lifeless, and again for ages of equal vastness it held no life above the level of the animalcule in a drop of ditchwater. The imagination, however, comes from the point of view of life and humanity empty, but time is empty also. Life is like a little glow, scarcely kindled yet, in these void immensities.

Straight Talking.

"You speak the same language as we do," said Mr. Freeze. "You have the same literature. You think pretty much the same thoughts and follow the same plane of life with little difference day by day and year by year, and we are anxious at this time that the splendid trade relations should continue. But if the new tariff comes into operation, as we are led to believe it will in October, it will place a great burden on this country."

Mr. Freeze said that he realized that those to the south of the line had a hard problem to deal with so far as the exchange situation in the Old Land was concerned, and which was probably the reason for the tariff. But while such a course was being adopted trade between the United States and the Dominion of Canada would materially suffer, especially cattle and grain, and if carried out would mean that Canada would have to seek other markets not so natural as those in which she had so largely dealt in the past.

Food for the World.

Samuel A. Hughes in replying on behalf of the association, said that although they had reached the foothills and were commanding a position which was really magnificent scenery, they must not overlook the fact that they had crossed a country between Winnipeg and Calgary which aided in feeding the people of the world."

I can assure the citizens of Calgary," said Mr. Hughes, "that we have been much impressed with our visit. We have seen your fields of grain. We have driven about your beautiful city and have been royally entertained and want to say that when we return back to our homes, we will tell the story."

Well Entertained.

During the afternoon the visitors were given a representation of a western stampede. This was staged at Victoria Park and much enjoyed by all visitors. It also made arrangements made for their entertainment. At the conclusion of the executive business session a dance was given in their honor. The party left early on Wednesday morning for Banff and Lake Louise. From there the passenger agents will proceed to the coast.

great volume in the history of life, an unfinished volume of which the sand and mud that was carried out to sea yesterday by the rivers of the world, to bury the bones and scales and bodies and tracks that will become at last fossils of the things of to-day, constitute the last written leaf.

THE RECORD OF THE ROCKS

These markings and fossil themselves are our first historic documents. History of life that men have passed on and are passing out from them—called the record of the rocks. By studying this record men are slowly piecing together a story of life's beginnings and of the beginnings of our kind, of which our ancestors a century or so ago had no knowledge.

But when we call these rocks and the fossils a record and a history it must not be supposed that there is any sign of an orderly keeping of record. It is merely that whatever record there is, if only we are intelligent enough to detect the meaning of that trace. Nor are the rocks of the world in orderly layers one above the other, convenient for men to read. They are like the books of history, scattered, torn, disarranged, interrupted, buried about, defaced, like a carelessly arranged office after it has experienced in succession a bombardment, a hostile military occupation, an earthquake, and fire.

Speculations about geological time vary enormously. Estimates of the age of the oldest rocks by geologists and astronomers starting from different standpoints have varied between 1,800,000 and 9,000,000 years.

But the record of time has been vast; that it is to be counted by scores and possibly by hundreds of millions of years, is the utmost that can be said with certainty in the matter.

It was in these words that Samuel Mexican responded on behalf of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents to the welcome extended by Acting Mayor J. W. Huggill and Frank Freeze, President of the Calgary Board of Trade, on his arrival from the Orient.

Eighty-seven Chinese stowaways have been found aboard sister ships of the Jefferson recently in this port and deported at the expense of their employers, Capt. Nichols had his ship searched at Yokohama. No stowaway was found.

The next day, when the vessel was about to leave for the Orient, the imaginary peace with all the world, the imagination of the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada stands for the Anglo-Saxon peace which will be the foundation of civilization for all time to come.

It was in these words that Samuel Nichols, commander of the steamship President Jefferson, which arrived here Tuesday night from the Orient, to-day told F. Lowell Matthay, of Los Angeles, seventeen years old, a student at the University of Southern California, beat his way home to the Orient.

ST. LEGER FAVORITE WAS LEFT AT POST

Ramus Was 20 Lengths Behind at Start; Other Ponies Caught at Barrier

Royal Lancer, an Outsider, Came Through on Drive in Home Stretch and Won London, Sept. 14.—The St. Leger lived up to its reputation of recent years and outsiders came through in the monied places yesterday. The favorites were again outclassed. It is now thirteen years since a favorite won, Bayardo capturing the race in 1899.

Royal Lancer—the winner this year, was quoted at 43-1 when he went to the post. Owing to his poor showing as a two-and-a-half-year-old he was neglected by the public. He won one race as a two-year-old, and this year the nearest he got to leading a field was in the Doge Stakes at Chester in May, when he got down in second place.

Ramus, winner of this year's French Derby, and favorite for the race, was left 20 lengths at the start, while Caleb, Diligence and Buckwood were also left several lengths. Werwulf raced in front of Re-Echo, Argos and Royal Lancer for three furlongs, when Argos took the lead, pursued by Ceylonian, Westgate, Harpenden, Surrey and Royal Lancer.

At the half distance Ceylonian led from Argos, followed by Sanhedrin, Harpenden, Silurian, Werwulf, Irish Battle and Royal Lancer.

This order was preserved until the stretch was entered when Sanhedrin forged to the front, and clear of Ceylonian, Westgate, Harpenden, Surrey and Royal Lancer.

At the quarter mile from home, Sanhedrin was beaten by Royal Lancer, who drawing up on the outside, quickly obtained the lead and won easily.

The French horse Gauris Arkar, was fourth—and Buckwood last. The time was 3 minutes 14 1/2 seconds.

Fred Power was ridden by O'Neill; Donoghue was on Sanhedrin; and Elliot on Tanglewood. Dunk's Green did not start.

Unbroken Record.

With the unbroken record of almost a century and a half the St. Leger is the oldest of great three-year-old races. It takes its name from the originator, Colonel St. Leger, who in 1776 arranged a race for three-year-old colts and fillies over a two-mile course at Doncaster for a sumptake of 25 guineas.

Twenty horses ran yesterday, the largest field in ninety years.

Commencing at 12 o'clock on Friday, September 22, Victoria will hold the biggest dog show in its history at the Caledonia Hall. The Victoria Kennel Club will stage the show and do its utmost to make the affair a success. After conducting a number of smaller shows this year, the club is now in a position to put on the biggest event in its racing career. Entries will be received from Canadian cities and American towns as far south as San Francisco. The State of New York is expected to send in some fine dogs.

To provide impartial, excellent and the best judging possible, the organization has secured the services of J. A. Holgate, Mr. Holgate is a notable dog expert from Dartmouth, England, and knows his business to perfection.

The judging will commence at 1 o'clock on Friday next, a large attendance is anticipated, as local entries are out to cap some of the silverware, in addition to the usual selection of ribbons and medals.

Show Last Two Days.

Strain on Muscles.

The Times medical correspondent says that the trouble arises through the strain on the muscles of the hand, which, attempting to grip the large handle, are thrown out of the proper function. "It is obvious," he says, "that once the condition has been established it will be apt to recur when certain strokes are repeated."

He adds that in the great majority of cases the onset of the condition is gradual. Pain in the muscles is only produced at first by actions which bring the affected muscles into play. Thus, patients notice that they can lift or pull heavy weights from the ground with perfect ease, but when the muscles are strained, such as pouring out tea, tying a bow tie, brushing the teeth, or similar movements are exquisitely painful.

The shape of the racket handle ought to be a first consideration, the Times' correspondent says, so far as prevention of "tennis elbow" is concerned.

WOOD GOOD at Net.

Tilden, a local favorite, on the Australian open, was fully as marked as the scores of the set indicate. O'Hara Wood, once camped at the net, is as fine a stroke player as has been seen in this country in years.

But yesterday Tilden refused to let him park in his favorite spot. The champion by the severity of his service, was able to hold his own about his own base line where he was far less formidable than when cutting off returns at the barrier. There were moments when the doubles star succeeded in reaching the net, and it was in these occasions stands that his tennis sparkled for even Tilden could not prevent himself from being a good player. Most of the time, however, Wood was on the defensive, deep in his own court, with the champion forcing him about until a drive, smash or chop ended the rally.

The stroke analysis shows that Tilden scored more than three times as many earned points as the Australian. Errors were comparatively few.

OTHER "AUZZIES" Successful.

Wood's Davis Cup teammates were more successful, although of course not facing opposition of the Tilden calibre.

Patterson, once he was warmed up, always held the edge over Hunter.

J. O. Anderson had less difficulty defeating R. Kinsey, although losing one set. Howard Kinsey was eliminated by William M. Johnston. The two Californians started what promised to be an interesting struggle when the younger Kinsey was down 4-1. He developed a bold bluster on the palm of his racket hand and defaulted the match after dropping the next two sets before the superior play of "Little Bill."

Marathon Matches.

Two marathons which featured the meeting of Watson Washburn with Manuel Alonzo and Wallace Johnson and Zenzo Shimizu. Although the Spaniard finally defeated Washburn, it required over two hours of play, and Johnson and the Japanese were well on their five-set battle before the earlier pair finished.

The Spanish star was bothered by the heat and the match with Washburn was suspended. Johnson, however, was able to hold his own in the first set, and the Spaniard was able to hold his own in the second set.

Yesterday, against Miss Findlay, of the Lambton Club, Miss Stirling won in forty-two, despite the fact that the two sides did two stymies as Miss Findlay. Miss Stirling continued her excellent play on the second nine, and the match terminated at the thirteenth hole.

Miss Mackenzie disposed of a strong opponent in Miss Effie Nesbitt, the English star, who was beaten by Miss Findlay. Miss Stirling continued her excellent play on the second nine, and the match terminated at the thirteenth hole.

Afternoon Frocks

$25.00 to $49.50

The long skirt about which fashion authorities were so undecided in the earlier part of the year, is now an established style. Waist lines are considerably below normal, sleeves vary but are mostly in the large loose style, and embroidery is the popular trimming used. The new frocks all feature more or less the drape effects and pointed panels. For afternoon and dinner wear we are showing a pleasing assortment of beautiful creations fashioned from crepe de Chine and Canton crepe; sizes to 40. Attractively priced from $25.00 to $49.50
